RSJ Inspection® is excited to announce its new Knowledge Sharing Platform called Qualpedia™ (<https://qualpedia.com/>), which is developed to realize our company's purpose "Responsible Value Creation". Adding to that, we intend to share our knowledge & experience with our community with an aim of helping and creating value for them.

Nowadays, a lot of people in the supply chain are struggling to cope with the changing customer expectations and needs. Qualpedia™, being a third party can easily catalyst the communication between all the supply chain partners and create awareness & value for all of them.

This Qualpedia™ is a Non-Profitable Knowledge Sharing Platform, which will help all the visitors like CEO's, Business Owners, Quality, Sourcing & Buying Professionals, students, new entrepreneurs, and other individuals, to access and learn about the various dimensions of Quality, Conformity, maturity assessments, supply chain, and other areas of business excellence, etc.

Qualpedia™ website will be regularly updated with new content including up-to-date information about market trends, new tools & technologies introduced in the market, major challenges faced as well as some mitigation ideas and some other useful resources. Visitors can explore the new site contents and sign up for the newsletter, leave a comment, schedule a call with one of our experts, getting guidance from us, and much more.

To reach people's minds easily, our Qualpedia™ team is striving hard to post the content in different forms like videos, blogs, infographics, carousels, etc. The information that you are finding in Qualpedia™ is purely based on our vast experience of experts in the industry and through detailed research. So, for the same, we would like to extend our heartfelt thanks to all our team members (<https://qualpedia.com/qualpedia-team/>) for their constant efforts and supports in creating the content.

RSJ would like to acknowledge and thank the Coach Mr. Rajiv Talreja for his great insights and support to teach content writing techniques to us. Also, we are very grateful to all our customers, Employees, Associates, Mentors, Partners, Suppliers, Regulators, Associations, and Organizations for their constant support and encouragement in our journey.

SAY HELLO TO OUR NEW KNOWLEDGE-SHARING PLATFORM!
